Seeing a neighbor, Miss Helen Sawyer, driving by in a carriage, and wishing to visit a neighbor in Mantua, she asked to be permitted to ride, which was granted. They had proupsetting the carriage, throwing occupants violently upon the gro and so seriously injuring Mrs. as to cause her death as above stated.

Radical Jubilee.-The Radicals amused themselves hugely on Tuesday, last by a grand pow-wow over their recent victory. Not feeling thusly inclined we in no way got mixed up in the affair, and therefore can give no account of the doings. Judging from outside appearances the whole thing passed off very orderly. Most of the business houses and many of the private residences were brilliantly illuminated and tastefully decorated which, with the torchlight processions the bands of music and display of fireworks gave the town a very pleasant days from October 6th, and fined $10, joy the sight.
